The Way The Leaves Fall

[Underswap AU] [Reader/Underswap Papyrus]

You are Astra Kelly, a mostly typical young lady working for minimum wage at 7-Eleven to take care of your frail Grandmother. Your life got a lot weirder after the mysterious barrier locking humanity out of Mt. Ebott's mysterious caverns finally shattered one fateful morning. Soon, following the shockwave, crowds of intelligent beings calling themselves 'Monsters' emerged. Their Queen waved a white flag and sought peaceful relations with humanity, but as expected, your fellow humans are slow to change and acceptance.

Though you find the Monsters fascinating, you're just a gas station employee that's barely getting by... What can you do? Maybe something as small as helping Monsters pick out the best flavor of chips can turn into something greater than yourself...
